This work has been in contemplation apwards of 40 years. The project of Universal History, then recently edited Universal History, then recently edited in 60 volumes, by a society of gentlearen in England. The original idea of extracting the quintessence of that voluminous work, which contained the most complete system of history the world had then seen, has ever since been enlarging and improving by an attentive perusal of the histories written by Robertson, Hume, Gibbon, and other modern authors—of the Assatic researches—of the works of Sir William Janes, and other learnest Orientalists the publications of intelligent travellers, who, in the course of the last half century have explored almost every region of the Globe. These collectively have thrown a blaze of light on countries company and approximately app paratively unknown, and on portion both of ancient and modern history whi were confused and obscure at the peri when the writers of the Universal Histo-ry published their work. The arrange ment of materials collected from these ment of materials collected from these sources commenced in the year 1780, when, in consequence of the surrender of Charleston to Sir Menry Clinton, the author was suddenly released from a sea of business and sent as a prisoner of war to the British Garrison then in St. Augustine, and there confined for elevenments, without any negative analysis. months, without any peculiar employ-ment. Steady progress has been made for the last ten years in correcting and transcribing the work for publication.

The History of the United States is given at full length—that of foreign countries is more or less expended or contracted in proportion to the infrinsic importance of each—its tendency to illustrate portions of Boly Writ—the Greek and Latin Classics—and also in proportion to its connexion with the U. States, or as furnishing useful practical information to its citizens, or as the paternal soil of their ancestors.

The above sketch of the nature and objects of this immense work, which has occupied the attention of the Author for upwards of 40 years, was found among his paners, and is now given to the public in his own words. THE SICILIANS. The Sicilians are rather a sly than The Sicilians are rather a sly than a cunning race; perhaps no nation in Europe possesses so much nativete. Loquations and ingenisms, they make more use of persuasion in their dealings than any other people. It is not enough that a Sicilian objects to the highprice of what he desires to purchase—he expatiates on the inferiority of the quality, recalls to recollection how long he has been a customer enumerates, are by one constitute. tomer, enumerates, one by one, canoting them on his flogers, the circumstances of unlacky bargains that he has had; flatteringly contrasts the opulence, of the English with the poverty of the Sicilians; animalwerts on the politics of the government; magnificathe value of his ready ney: insignates that he may change rekant; and often retires, and re turns several times, before he offers his iltimatum. Nor in selling does he pracgle point of his wares that does not posses, something extraordinary, or beautiful, no other shop in the town has any thing like them; so thesp or so excellent. If the price be high, what will you give? and it is seldom that a Sicilian refuses the fer of an Englishman. The inhabi ants of this island are, in the proper sense of the term, highly su-perstitious—but the dicts of ignorance are so interwoven with the creeds of Popery, that many notions of vulgar superstition are regarded as essentials of religion. The only exception is a belief in the effects of the influence of evil eves -and even over this the priesthood have acquired this jurisdiction. For y persuade people to buy bits of bles-rage and paper, which, when worn pended round the neck, have the effeet as they prefend, of neutralizing the maglignancy. The influence of an evil look is instantaneous—and the person who happens to glance it, may be un subject with sulden malady, or impresunlits him for the presecution of pre-meditated intentions. It is useless to speculate on the fantasies of the human mind—but, in this case, the constant lick-ring of electricity in this climate, and the acca-ional breathing of pestiferous exhalations, from the vegetable curruption in the bottoms of the valleys, a distempers and dejections which are as-cribed to the aspect of ungracious eyes. the same superstition is well known in the same superstition is well known in Scotland—but it is more generally pervalent among the Sicillians than the Scotch Whether it is among us, an imported or indegenous belief cannot now be ascertained. Over all the ancient extent of the Papal Empire, there is a great similarity in the topics of vuigar credulity.

The Sicilians have, certainly a ver keen relish of humour-and, now and then, one may perceive in them a strong trait of peculiarity, not individual but national, which, notwithstanding their ancient proficiency, is an assurance to at they may yet attam some literary superiorit A description of manners and customs, by a genuine Sicilian, otherwise properly qual-fied, would equal-ly surprise and delight

ALEXANDRIA: SATURDAY, MARCH 50, 1818. PROM OUR CORRESPONDENT AT WASH-INGTON.

Saturday March 28, 1818. The annual appropriation bill, and Mr. Clay's amendment to it, were vesterday under the consideration of the house in a ommittee for the whole day. Relapsed indisposition as robbed me of the great pleasure I should have had in giving a short sketch of the very able speeches made upon the occasion. Mr. Smyth, of Virginia, and Mr. Nelson, added to the mass of weighty and unanswerable argu ment already delivered against the measure. Mr. Holmes and Mr. Tucker of Virginia spoke in its favor. The house. nowever, have not yet exhausted the subject, and it will be gain argued to-day, when it is hoped a decision will be had.

Thus has one week more been expended upon a subject which can be of no possible use to this country, or to any other.

Col. Balbwin, principal engineer of the state of Virginia, came up in the steam-b at Washington, on Saturday last. It is understood that the Colonel will this week commence to trace out the route for the Canal between Goose Creek and A-

We have always hesitated in giving ull credence to the accounts of the capture and death of general Mina. Letters are now in this city, which the editor is assured, from a source on which he can ely, are genuine, which reader it certain that he was " alive, at liberty, and doing well," about twenty-one days since.

The experiment has been fully made whether this valuable v-getable will succeed in our soil. A quantity of the seed was brought from Italy 18 months since by Dr. Reynolds, who received it from a triend in Leghoro, and sown in April of the last year in a grass lot of Upton Liaw rence, esq. of this place. Although exposed to all the rigors of the frost of winter, the Lupenella grew luxuriantly, and completely imbedded itself in the soil. It maintained its verdure during the coldest weather, and has already commenced its spring growth. It appears. therefore, quite evident that this nutri-cious substance will domesticate itself in the middle states of America, affording pasturage during winter to cattle, and the most abundant harvests to the sickle Tonqua Winchong, the celebrated Hong merchant, is now in the city of

The country was in a state of tranquil ity at the time of my leaving there. previous of a Spanish expedition, aided y a Russian auxiliary force, was coming mt to restore Ferdinand's authorityout the alarm had entirely subsided.

Hostilities had commenced between the government of Buenos Ayres and the Patriots of the Banda Oriental, or east side of the river La Plate-and in consequence of the representations made to the former, that part of the airmy un der General Artegas, had revolted from fance, a division of troops was sent over to co-operate with them in expelling him from the government—but owing to the vigor and promptitude of General Arte gas on the occasion, report says the exly all either killed or made prisoners.

An attempt had recently been made by the Patriots to take it by storm-but after taking partial possession of the works, were compelled to retreat with considerable loss. It was stated that an additional reinforcement had lately arrived to the assistance of the beseiged—and intelligence had likewise been obtained that an expedition was preparing to sail from Lima for the invasion of Chili-in consequence of which the most active preparations were making to repel the enemy in case he attempt toland.

By letters from St Jago, it was stated that all the troops stationed in the capital had marched for the coast, under the command of General San Martin—who, by the last accounts, was encamped in the neighborhood of Valparaiso, with 5 to six hundred men under him. The same letters mentioned that a very general spirit of patriotism prevailed a-mong the people, attended by a firm re-solution to maintain, at all bazards the independence of their country. Measures lawever, had been taken for the preservation of property both in the capital and on the coast in case of its invasion by its removal to a greater distance into the

In other properts the Portuguese have become very friendly to the Patriota un that side, and on all occasions treat them with considerable respect and confidence. Hamilton's Worm-destroying Loxen Which have within sixteen years pas ured an immense number of persons of both sexes of every age and in every sa-tuation, of various dialigerous complaints arising from WORMS, and from obstructions or foulness in the stemach and bow

This medicine bears no analogy what ever to others of similar titles so commonly complained of as operating with iolence; on the contrary a particular excellence of this remedy is its being suited to every age and constitution. It contains nothing but what is perfectly innocent is so mild in its operation that it cannot injure the most delicate pregnant ady or the tenderest infant of a week old should no worms exist in the body; but will without pain or griping cleanse stemach and bowels of whatever is fou or offensive, and thereby prevent the preduction of worms and many fatal dis-orders. The lozenges are particularly efficacious in carrying off all gross hu-mours and ecuptions, feverish and bilious complaints, and are the safest and mild est purgative that can be used on any

Description of Worms, and the symp toms by which they are known. Worms which infest the human body re chiefly of four kinds viz.—The Te res or large round worm; the Ascari ing or short flat white worm; and astly, the Tenia or tape-worm, so called from its resemblance to tape. This is often many yards long and is full of joints. It is most hurtful and most diffi oult to remove. Among the symptoms attending wor are—disagreeable breath, especially in the morning; had and corrupted gums; itching in the nose, and about the seat; convulsions, epileptic fits, and sometimes privation of speech; starting and grind ing of the feeth in sleep; irregular appe-tites, sometimes leathing food and some-times veracions; purging with simy and factid stools; vemiting; large and hard belly; pains and sickness at the sto-mach; pains in the head and thighs and lowness of spirits; slow fever with small and irregular mules; a dry courte, a reas disagreeable breath, especially in and irregular pulse ; a dry cough ; excessive thirst; cometimes pale and unhealthy countenance, and sometimes the face bloa-ted, and fit shed.

Persons afflicted with any of the above symptoms should have immediate re-course to Hamilton's Worm Destroying Lozenges, which have been constantly attended with success in all complaints similar to those above described.

A dose of this medicine given reca sionally during the warm season, will ef tectually prevent "the vomiting and pur-ging of children"—a dreadful disorder, which annually destroy thousands of the infant part of our citizens. It is likewise the mildest and most certain remedi anown, and has restored to health and strength a great number when in an advanced stree of this fatal complaint. Particular and plain instructions are given for every part of the necessary treatment in such cases.

Children generally take this medicine with eagerness; having a pleasing appearance, and an agreeable taste.

Facts of this conclusive nature speak nore in favour of a medicine than coumns of pompous eulogy founded on mere assertion.

It is not indeed presumptuously pro-posed as an infallible cure, but the invenor has every possible reason that can result from extensive experience for be-lieving that a dose of these Pills taken once in every two weeks during the pre-valence of our bilious fevers, will prote an infallible preventive; and further, that in the earlier stages of those diseases their use wil: very generally succeed in restoring health, and frequently in cases esteemed desperate and beyond the power of common remedies.

The operation of these pills is perfectly mild, so as to be used with safety by persons in every situation and of every age,

They are excellently adapted to carry off superfluous bile and prevent its mor bid secretions-to restore and amend the appetite—to produce a free perspiration and thereby prevent colds which are often of fatal consequences. A dose never fails to remove a cold if taken on its hist appearance: they are celebrated for removing habitual costiveness—sickness at the stomach and severe head-ache—and ought to be taken by all persons on a hange of climate.

They have been found remarkably efficatious in preventing and curing disor-ders attendant on long voyages, and should be procured and carefully preserved for use by every seaman.
